The Louisiana Center for Children's Rights is a nonprofit law office that stands with kids in the justice system no matter what. We provide holistic legal defense to address children's needs both inside and outside the courtroom. And we tackle the systemic issues that criminalize mostly poor, Black youth in the first place. Our goal is to keep kids out of a harmful system so that they can thrive where they belong: at home, at school, and in our communities. As the juvenile public defender in New Orleans, we represent over 90% of children in the city who come into contact with the juvenile justice system. We provide each child with a holistic team – a lawyer, social worker, investigator, and youth advocate – to address both the causes and consequences of an arrest. Juvenile delinquent.

NCFS provides innovative solutions to support the unique needs of the individuals they serve by striving to create a caring and responsive environment that promotes the highest standards of integrity and quality.

It is for families of children who have complex behavioral health needs and are either in or at risk of being in an out-of-home placement (e.g., foster homes, group homes, juvenile detention facilities, psychiatric hospitals, residential treatment centers). It includes a Coordinated System of Care (CSoC) by combining resources of the State's four child-serving agencies: Department of Children and Family Services, Department of Education, Department of Health, and Office of Juvenile Justice. A child/young person might be able to be enrolled in CSoC if he/she is 21 or younger; is at risk for out of home placement; is already placed out of the home; or has behavioral health challenges. The model used to meet the goals of CSoC is a wraparound model. This is a process to help youth with complex behavioral health needs benefit from individualized, coordinated care planning. This process produces a single plan of care that coordinates all agencies and providers. Wraparound integrates youth into the community and builds the family's social support network, rather than seeking out of home placement. Juvenile delinquent.

Destiny Cooper and Anna West began Humanities Amped in 2014 with one class of 25 students. Today, we are in residence at Broadmoor High School, a public school that is part of the East Baton Rouge Parish School System, serving students, educators, and community members. Our vision is to build an innovative and dynamic community of lifelong learners and civic leaders, and it is our mission to empower public school communities and youth organizations to cultivate healing justice, radical imagination, and beloved community.

At Broadmoor High School

- Amplifying English Language Arts Classrooms places Amped staff and community volunteers in Broadmoor's ELA classrooms to accompany 500+ students and teachers through hands-on, practical classroom support with a special emphasis on the needs of English Learners.
- Amped Studio Afterschool students earn stipends while participating in civic engagement and arts projects and taking part in positive youth development activities such as restorative circles, college and career readiness mentoring, and homework support.

Youth Referral Resource List

- Amplified Lunches offer a space to hang out and participate in peer-led activities that bolster student wellbeing and school climate.
- Youth Apprentice Leaders League (Y'ALL) fosters democratic engagement and peer-to-peer wellbeing during lunch and after school as students plan and lead activities for their peers.
- Community Care Check-Ins offer youth the listening ear of a trained staff member who is able to guide youth to strategies for caring for themselves and making connections to critical health and human services.

In the Community

- Amped Learning Greenhouses offer a guided process for youth development practitioners to conduct their own action research. Learning greenhouses ultimately result in strong, transferable forms of knowledge that can propagate throughout communities for the benefit of all.
- Youth City Lab is a coalition of four youth organizations, including Humanities Amped, that is developing Baton Rouge's flagship youth community center on Government Street.
- Baton Rouge Area Youth Network (BRAYN) is a network of over 50 youth organizations that is working together with EBRPSS, Wilson Foundation, and Capital Area United Way to strengthen youth services and school-community partnerships. Humanities Amped leaders are on the organizing committee of BRAYN.

The Baton Rouge Youth Coalition is a community of dedicated students and caring adults working together to advance equity through access to higher education. BRYC exists because lower-income students of color are systemically blocked from the American Dream: the ability to convert education into personal and professional opportunity. For us, that journey starts early. Our High School Fellows attend weekly after-school programs that help them improve their grades, conquer the ACT, and affordably enter two- or four-year colleges. It doesn't end there. BRYC helps Fellows persist in college and launch into careers, maximizing the economic value of their degrees. Above all, BRYC is a village, a tribe, a safety net — a vast web of resources and relationships that Fellows can count on forever. There's always room in the BRYC Community, and we hope you will join us.

How It Works: Fellows come to BRYC (in person or virtually) one assigned day per week for three hours of grade-specific programming led by dedicated BRYC team members and supported by trained mentors. Programs take place Monday-Thursday during the school year from 4:30-

Behavioral Intervention Group is a CABAS® accredited learning center with a team of dedicated therapists. We are focused on providing the skills, teaching environments and learning opportunities necessary to improve the quality of life for children with autism and other developmental disorders.

Learning center dedicated to helping improve the quality of life for children (0-7) diagnosed with ASD, or with other developmental disorders.

Comprehensive ABA Program: includes classrooms designed for children who have an autism diagnosis. This program focuses on teaching them the necessary skills they will need to function successfully in a classroom setting. It also includes our Early Learner Classrooms for our youngest students.

Developmental Pre-K/Kindergarten: Students without an autism diagnosis but who may be struggling in school or in social atmospheres can be placed in our Developmental Pre-K/Kindergarten program. In these classrooms, they will receive ABA therapy full-time with the goal of transitioning back into a regular school.

Social Skills Groups: use ABA therapy to focus on specific social skills such as friendship, group interactions, and peer conflict and aim to help the student better express his/her thoughts and feelings in their everyday environments.

Youth Referral Resource List

Academic Tutoring: sessions for students with learning gaps or who may be struggling in a particular school subject. These sessions are built upon the principles of ABA and provide research-back methods that ultimately lead to our goal of improving the student's academic functioning in his/her school and home setting.

Accepts most insurance.

Some services require an ASD diagnosis.
